Banner Bank Building
Boise, Idaho

Partners Shay Sekler and Eduard Borochoy founded IMT Modular Partitions Ltd. as a commercial interior construction company 14 years ago. Market demands and an increased awareness of the benefits of modular walls drove them to explore all available options so that it could respond to this emerging opportunity.

Drawing from their extensive construction backgrounds, available expertise and 2-1/2 years of development, IMT introduced their proprietary modular wall system in 2000.

Introduction to the North American market place occurred in Toronto at IDEX 2002 where IMT won the prestigious Gold Award in the systems furniture category.

This feature rich, aggressively priced product offers:

- Unmatched flexibility in design.
- An architectural appeal not easily matched by conventional construction.
- Un-surpassed modularity of all components that benefits cost of ownership.
- Long term tax advantages.
- Sustainable alternative to conventional construction.

Since 2002 IMT and our North American dealer partners have installed in excess of 100,000 linear feet of modular walls.

IMT has a strong commitment to support and protect the environment. We at IMT are one of the few companies that have chosen to produce walls only, and have designed a completely sustainable, environmentally conscious product.

The use of any Modular Wall system is a major promotion to the environment, the simple fact that gypsum based wall board is not being constructed saves all the landfill associated with the use and re-use of dry-wall. Furthermore, the more “modular” the wall system is, the more likely the parts of the system may be re-used and less waste is generated.

IMT Modular Partitions Ltd and our dealer partners’ strategy for social responsibility are simply to focus on the continuous improvement of these four areas: employees, other stakeholders, their families and their communities.

Our members are the basis of our success around the world and our values are as transferable as our products and services.

And one of the best parts, according to Murnighan and Schwager, is that waste will be minimal.
